TONGJI UNIVERSITY

The Ministry of Commerce of the People's Republic of China (MOFCOM) is offering the very best scholarship for young talents to study in UN Environment-Tongji Institute of Environment for Sustainable Development(IESD)

Dear friend,

Warm greetings from Tongji University, Shanghai, China! Tongji University originated as a German Medical School established in 1907. Over a century later, it has become one of the top universities in China forming a strong cooperation with many multinational organizations including UNEP, UN-Habitat and UNESCO and many others. Tongji has valued the balanced development of four main functions: Education, Research, Outreach, and Building on Cultural Inheritance.

The Master Programme in Environmental Management and Sustainable Development is offered by Tongji and sponsored by the Ministry of Commerce of People's Republic of China (MOFCOM). This degree program is designed to foster high-end business officials and managerial personnel for the recipient countries. It offers a two-year master program for the purpose of educating high-end and interdisciplinary experts working in the applied fields of government, trade, foreign affairs, agriculture, technology, education, culture and health. The program aims to build intellectual capacity and facilitate the economic and social development of the recipient countries.

UNEP-Tongji Institute of Environment for Sustainable Development (IESD) was jointly established by Tongji University and UNEP in 2002. Since then, the institute has enrolled 464 students from 83 countries into the degree program. The Environment discipline of Tongji University ranks A+ among the 155 universities in China according to the recent evaluation by the Chinese Ministry of Education.
